♪ Pronunciations

	ONYOMI	kunyomi
Cm.	フ (FU)	つ (tsu)
Knowing when the kun-yomi becomes voiced in the second position is a bit tricky, but as this kanji appears in many common words, it pays to spend some extra time with it.
In general the reading in the second position will be つ, and it always is when this kanji is preceded by another kanji that is read with its verb stem: 見付ける (み つける: ‘to find’) is one example, as ‘mi’ is the stem of the verb 見る.
It is only when the preceding reading does not form a verb with its kanji that 付 will sometimes become voiced as ず: 気付く (キ づく: ‘to notice’) and 名付ける (な づける: ‘to name’) are examples of this, as 気 and 名 do not form standalone verbs with KI and na in the way 見 does with mi.
